HISTORICAL BACKGROUND

Sursock is a grand palace located in the city of Beirut in Lebanon. The palace, was built in the 1800s by Moïse Sursock. It is considered a symbol of the Sursock family's rich history. The family origins goes back to Constantinople and they have living in Beirut since 1714. Their great wealth was made in the early 19th century primarily in agriculture and later in manufacturing. Sursock Palace is surrounded by gardens that can be hired for special events, such as weddings. It also faces the Sursock Museum, a villa from 1912 that was bequeathed to the city of Beirut and became a museum in 1961.

WHY SURSOCK?

Using the name of Sursock, along with the colors gold, purple and brown which have different meanings (gold color represents wealth and luxury, purple is associated with royalty and power, and brown is associated with warmth and nature). Will give the restaurant a luxurious trait of the Sursock palace and the unique building of it.
